We develop medical diagnostic systems. We even contribute to lunar exploration. The Fujifilm Group continues to generate new value across six fields of business.

Medical diagnostic systems using proprietary imaging technology to contribute to the early detection of disease. Pharmaceutical research utilizing cutting-edge biotechnology. Development of skincare products featuring superior ingredients and permeability designed to enhance the skin's beauty. Touch-sensitive films to expand the possibilities for smartphones and tablet devices. Next-generation digital inkjet printers that revolutionize conventional printing. Lenses developed for use in space and with moon exploration. All of these have come out of the expansion of our photographic film and related businesses. Fujifilm has been reborn as a company that will change the future across six fields of business. Our goal, in this ever-changing world, is to continue to create new technology and value for people all over the world.
